Dear Bob:

25X1A9a
I finally arrived back in Washington the first of this week following the sweep I made with  and one of his colleagues down in California, and I hasten to drop you a line to thank you for the splendid help you gave us during our visit to the campus. We were tremendously impressed with some of your graduate students and hope we can make a deal with three or four. It is too early yet, of course, for any of the applications to have reached me, but I certainly have my fingers crossed that at least two or three of your best ones are sufficiently interested to complete that frightening application form.

It was a great pleasure to see you again after such a long lapse of time and to have a chance for at least a brief talk. By the way, in connection with your contribution to the Joint Economic Committee you may be interested to hear that both you and  made 25X1A5a1 the front page of Izvestiya along with three or four of the other contributors. I am enclosing a copy of that portion of the Izvestiya comment which takes your name in vain.

Thanks again and please don't fail to check in with us in the event you get back this way. Your other old friends would be equally delighted to see you.

Sincerely,

25X1A5a1
